Who will be like Jesus, a heart that always cares? Who will be like Jesus?

There are brothers not yet ten, carrying rifles meant to kill

Little soldiers out there fighting, haven't got a clue!

Who will be their Jesus when they need Him?

Who will hold them close when they're afraid?

Who will give the love that makes compassion what it is?

Who will bring them out so they can live? C:

It's easy in a land of plenty to close our eyes to those without

Often those who have the money are so poor inside

The blessing is to those who freely offer

To make a better world for those deprived

Who will give the love that makes compassion what it is?

Who will hear His call and be a light? C:
